CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE

"What did I tell you?" said Dick yesterday morning as he passed the morning paper over to me. "I knew that pedastated saint that Kitty Malm married was quite as human as the rest of us."

I hurriedly looked at the sheet and saw in startling headlines: "Prominent Divine and Popular Settlement Worker Sued for Breach of Promise."

From the story that followed, I found that Herbert had been sued for breach of promise by the pretty nurse because his engagement had been announced to a prominent society woman and who was much interested in social settlement work.

Said the article:

"Mr. Spencer's wife died only about ten months ago and left him a little daughter. At that time Miss Heathcott was installed as nurse; very soon the good-looking divine was always seen accompanying the pretty nurse when she took the baby for its airings."

"Kiss for once was thrown off the track, for it was known how the young father had adored the charming and vivacious wife who had given her life for her baby."

"He was called 'the man of sorrows' by the admiring neighbors of the settlement who watched his care of his motherless baby."

"And all the while the sly dog must have been holding hands with that little blonde nurse," said Dick with a laugh, as I read the foregoing aloud.

"I'm glad to know he is human after all," he continued, "and I don't mind telling you, Margie, that I'm rather glad he has been found out."

His sanctimonious mess got on my nerves, especially when he said he did not want you to have the bringing up of his child, because he was afraid that it would not be brought up in a Christian environment."

Dick laughed heartily—but I was very unhappy—for I had read on further, where the nurse had said that Herbert had, under promise of marriage, been guilty of more than indelicate love-making. Poor Kitty! Poor Herbert!

"I have almost come to the conclusion, Dick, that no man can resist a woman. The only reason why most men are as good as they are is because no woman thinks they are worth the trouble of tempting."

Dick laughed.

"Margie," he said, "you usually hit the nail on the head, even if it goes straight into a man's tenderest spot."

Little book, I know instinctively that my foolish little epigram did not hit Dick anywhere except on his funny-bone, for most women seem to find Dick worth tempting and he is very well aware of that fact.

I can't get over the shock of Herbert's fall. Truly proximity spells affinity—before marriage—but after it almost seems to me that propinquity spells, for the man at least, boredom. And I must also confess to you, little book, that I do not believe that Dick could at this moment interest me in the details of a romance as did Mr. Stuart the other evening.

KAISER'S ONLY DAUGHTER, DUTCHESS VICTORIA, WITH HER BABY.

The Dutchess Victoria Louise of Brunswick, the only daughter of the Kaiser, and her infant son, Ernest August George, born at Brunswick, March 18, 1914. The youngster was but four months old when his father, Ernest August, the duke of Brunswick, joined the German forces and since then has seen his gallant father so little that he can be truly called a "war baby."

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS—(LOOKS LIKE WILBUR MIGHT GIVE TOM A JOB INSTEAD, DOESN'T IT?)—BY ALLMAN.

HEALTH HINTS

TUBERCULOSIS INFECTION.
No matter what part of the body is affected the germs that cause tuberculosis are always taken into the body in one of two ways:

First—Breathed in with the air.
Second—Swallowed with the food.
Infection can take place through a wound in the skin, but this is so rare that it scarcely is worth considering by the ordinary person.
Ninety per cent of the cases of tuberculosis are caused by breathing in the germs. These germs are scattered to the air by the discharges which persons already infected with the disease cough or spit out.
Germs may be taken into the body with the food. This may happen when persons suffering from tuberculosis are permitted to sell, handle, cook or serve food.

HAD BRONCHIAL ASTHMA
SO BADLY MAN COULD NOT LIE DOWN—CURED BY VINOL.

For years and years we have been telling the people of Fairmont that Vinol is a wonderful remedy for bronchial troubles. Here is positive proof:

Tilden, Ill. "For five years I suffered from bronchial asthma. In the winter time I was obliged to sit in a Morris chair all night, as I could not lie down, owing to that dreadful choking sensation. I tried nearly every known remedy, but nothing gave me any relief until one day I met the Station Agent at Willsville, Ill., and he said he had been cured by Vinol. I at once commenced to take it, and the result is my cough is gone, my appetite has improved, and I can lie down and sleep all night, and my experience leads me to believe that Vinol is a certain remedy for bronchial asthma." John M. Candell, Tilden, Ill.

The reason that cough syrups fail in such cases is because they are palliative only, while Vinol removes the cause, being a constitutional remedy in which are combined the healing elements of fresh cod livers, together with tonic iron and beef peptone. It strengthens and revitalizes the entire system and assists nature to expel the disease.

Crane's Drug Store, Fairmont, W. Va. Vinol is sold in Mannington by the Prescription Pharmacy.
